

IsiXhosa and Oromo

- IsiXhosa is an agglutinative (can concatenate affixes (subwords) with a root to form words) Nguni language belonging to the Niger-Congo language family, spoken in South Africa
 - SVO (subject verb object e.g. I eat food)
 - Tonal: but not indicated in writing
 - Vowel length: not indicated in writing
 - Agglutinative: On the prefix and suffix sides
- Oromo is an Afro-Asiatic macrolanguage with a standard Latin-script writing system (Qubee) spoken in Ethiopia.
 - SOV
 - Gemination (length of the consonant sound, which often indicates different meanings) is orthographic (indicated in the writing system), so like "k" vs "kk" (p.g. 14, GSWO)
 - Vowel length: "a" vs "aa"
 - Agglutinative, but more on the suffix side
 - Reference: <https://www.semanticscholar.org/paper/A-grammatical-sketch-of-written-Oromo-Griefenow-Mewis/d645671ded77737e15f4049f6bd40752052c741c> (GSWO)
 - Download Link: <https://annas-archive.gl/md5/2245637b516f1f77f4a6c0e0c25b0eb9>